MEDICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Medical Assistance program provides for payment of allowable medical care received by 1) public aid recipients, and 2) certain other individuals and families who do not need assistance to meet their general living costs but who do require help in meeting the cost of medical bills.

The program, financed jointly by the state of Illinois and the federal government, is administered by the Illinois Department of Public Aid through its county departments located in each of the state's 102 counties.

WHERE TO APPLY

Persons receiving Assistance to the Aged, Blind, or Disabled (AABD) and Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) are eligible for medical services; consequently, they are not required to apply for Medical Assistance.

Persons and families who are otherwise self-supporting but need assistance to meet the cost of current medical care may make application for Medical Assistance at the public aid office in the county of residence. If need for Medical Assistance occurs while hospitalized, application for this assistance may be made while in the hospital.

If the person asking for assistance is unable to complete the application, it may be made in his behalf by a relative or other person who has sufficient knowledge of the applicant's circumstances to furnish information.

SERVICES AVAILABLE

Medical Services. The Medical Assistance program is designed to provide essential medical services required by the applicant's condition due to illness, infirmity, or disability when such medical care is recommended by a qualified practitioner, and when the necessary care is not available to the individual from any other source.

The medical services and supplies for which payment can be provided are: in-patient and out-patient hospital services; clinic care; physical rehabilitation services; laboratory and x-ray services; family planning services; nursing care in the home; skilled nursing home care; home health care services; special duty nursing care for a hospital patient; care in intermediate care facilities; physicians' services in the office, patient's home, hospital, nursing home, or other appropriate place; psychiatric services; early and periodic screening for diagnosis and treatment of children; dental care; eye care; podiatry services; physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, and audiology by or supervised by a qualified therapist; drugs, medical supplies, sickroom needs, appliances and prosthetic devices.

Funeral and Burial Expenses. Funeral and burial expenses are allowable for otherwise self-supporting persons who are receiving services under the Medical Assistance program in accordance with the department's payment standards when 1) the deceased was an applicant or a recipient of medical services at the time of death, 2) the estate is insufficient to pay the cost of funeral and burial, and 3) no legally responsible relatives are able to pay the costs.

Food Stamps. Persons and families receiving Medical Assistance (only) may also be eligible to purchase food stamps. They should consult the local county department of public aid.

Social Services. Applicants and recipients of Medical Assistance are eligible for information, referral and follow-up services; for help with plans when alternate care arrangements are needed when leaving a state hospital; and for a range of social services provided by other state agencies.

ELIGIBILITY FOR MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

Persons who have sufficient income and assets to cover their general living expenses but who need financial assistance to pay their medical expenses will qualify for Medical Assistance if they meet all of the following eligibility requirements:

Financial Eligibility. Individuals or families may be eligible for Medical Assistance (only) when the amount of their resources considered available to meet medical needs will not meet the cost of allowable medical care.

In determining an applicant's or recipient's eligibility for Medical Assistance (only), resources considered available to meet medical needs are 1) non-exempt income available over a six-month period in excess of the department's standards, 2) non-exempt liquid assets exceeding the department's standards, and 3) available contributions from responsible relatives.

Persons legally responsible for support of needy relatives are spouse for spouse and parents for the support of children under age 21.

Income. Income and other money resources available to the applicant or recipient will be considered for the six-month period for which the person's eligibility is being determined for medical assistance.

The established six-month period of eligibility, determined for each applicant, begins with the month when medical service is given, provided the applicant meets all eligibility requirements. Assistance may be granted for the month prior to application if necessary.

In determining eligibility and the extent of need for Medical Assistance (only), the individual's or family's income considered is the non-exempt income available for the six-month period. A portion of income may be exempt from consideration in determining eligibility for Medical Assistance (only) in accordance with income exemption policies relating to AABD and ADC. Six months non-exempt income in excess of the medical assistance standard is considered available for payment toward medical care costs.

Assets. Assets exempt from consideration in determining the eligibility of applicants for Medical Assistance are: homestead property, clothing and personal effects, household furnishings, business or farming equipment essential to produce income, motor vehicle(s), cemetery lot, certain group life insurance and other life insurance which has a face value of no more than $1,000.

Also exempt are the cash value of non-homestead property, stocks, bonds, savings accounts, and cash, provided the total value of any or all the items does not exceed $400 for one person, $200 for the second dependent family member, and $100 for each additional family member. The value of assets exceeding these amounts is considered available to apply toward medical expenses.

Summary of Financial Eligibility. An applicant's or recipient's non-exempt income (including available contributions from responsible relatives) and non-exempt assets over an established six-month period are considered in the determination of financial eligibility for Medical Assistance. A person or family having non-exempt income and assets in excess of the income and assets standards noted above may still be eligible if medical care costs exceed the surplus resources available to them.

Residence. Applicants for the Medical Assistance program must be living in Illinois with the intent to remain. Temporary absence from the state does not disqualify an applicant if he meets all other eligibility requirements.

Other Eligibility Factors. With the exception of the financial eligibility requirements, all other eligibility factors are the same as those in effect for AABD or ADC programs. To be eligible, an individual must be:

65 years of age or over; or blind to the extent that even with glasses he is unable to perform ordinary duties; or 18 years of age or older and totally and permanently disabled—either physically or mentally—to the extent that he is unable to work at an occupation for which he is suited. Suitability is determined by the Department of Public Aid.

The extent of an applicant's blindness, disability, or incapacity must be established through appropriate medical examinations as designated by the Department of Public Aid.

Families may be eligible for the Medical Assistance program:

1)If there are one or more children under the age of 21 in the family group;

2)The children are deprived of parental support or care by the death, physical or mental incapacity, full or partial unemployment, or continued absence for such reasons as unmarried parenthood, divorce, separation, imprisonment, or military service of either parent, and

3)The children are living with an adult who is their parent or other close relative such as an adoptive father or mother, grandmother, grandfather, brother, sister, stepfather, stepmother, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, aunt, or any other relative approved by the department.

Public Institutions. Needy persons 65 and over who are living in public institutions for the treatment of mental illness or tuberculosis are eligible for Medical Assistance. Inmates of penal or correctional institutions are ineligible. Persons about to be released from an institution may apply for Medical Assistance for services needed after release.

Persons 18 years of age or older discharged from a mental health facility solely for the purpose of receiving medical care in a general hospital, and who then return to the mental health facility are eligible for Medical Assistance while in the general hospital.

Transfer of Property. A person who has transferred either real or personal property within five years of the date of application for Medical Assistance is ineligible for assistance if the transfer was made for the purpose of qualifying for or increasing the need for assistance.

Determination of Eligibility. Applicants for Medical Assistance will be expected to provide information needed to determine their eligibility. The applicant will be notified of the decision within 30 days of the date of application (60 days if eligibility is based on disability).

A redetermination of eligibility is made every six months or any time within the six-month period if information is received indicating a change in the recipient's circumstances which may affect his eligibility.

PAYMENT PROVISIONS

The department will make payments for medical services provided through the Medical Assistance program to the person or institution which provides the medical service. Payments will cover only the allowable medical expenses which the eligible individual or family cannot meet from his available resources as computed in accordance with the department's standards, including such resources as medical, surgical, or other health insurance.

RIGHTS OF APPLICANTS AND RECIPIENTS

Right to Apply. Any person who believes he may be eligible for medical services has the right to apply under the Medical Assistance program.

Choice of Vendors. Persons receiving Medical Assistance are entitled to a free choice of doctors, hospitals, or other providers of medical services which meet the requirements of and comply with the rules and regulations of the department.

Advance Notice. Persons receiving Medical Assistance will be given 15 days advance notice in writing before a county department acts to suspend or cancel their assistance. They will also be given the opportunity for an informal conference with a county department representative (within the 15-day period) to discuss the reasons for the proposed change. This is not the same as an appeal, nor does it prevent a recipient from appealing after such a conference.

Right of Appeal. An applicant or recipient may make his appeal orally or in writing to the local county department of public aid or to the Illinois Department of Public Aid within 60 days. The county department will provide a form which he may use in making his appeal and will provide information about community legal services that may be available to him. Legal fees are not paid by the department. If he is appealing a proposed suspension or cancellation of assistance and his appeal is filed within the 15-day advance notice period, his assistance may be continued during the hearing process if the appeal is based on question of fact or judgment. Assistance is not continued if the department determines that the appeal is based on an issue of law or policy, or if the appeal is not filed within the 15-day period.

The hearing, conducted by a state hearing officer, is without cost to the appellant and is held in his county of residence. The county department will provide for payment of unusual expenses (transportation, child care) that might prevent an appellant's attendance at his hearing and for necessary transportation for the appellant's witnesses and representatives.

At the hearing the appellant will have the opportunity to present his case himself or have it presented by his legal counsel or someone acting in a representative capacity, to introduce evidence and witnesses in his behalf, and to examine before and during the hearing any material the county department plans to introduce as evidence.

Unless the appellant has requested a delay, the department will notify him by letter of its decision on his appeal within 60 days after the appeal is filed.

For complete details, see brochure DPA 377, The Right to Appeal and to Receive a Fair Hearing.

Civil Rights. The Illinois Department of Public Aid administers all programs under its jurisdiction in conformance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare regulations defining state responsibilities under that Act.

Therefore, the Department of Public Aid does not, directly or through contractual or other arrangements, on the ground of race, color, or national origin deny any individual, aid, care, services, or other benefits provided under the programs; differentiate in the kind of aid, care, services, or other benefits provided, or in the manner in which they are provided, subject an individual to segregation or separate treatment in any manner related to receipt of aid, care, services, or other benefits; restrict any person from having the same advantages and privileges of all others in receiving them; treat an individual differently than others in determining eligibility or other requirements to qualify for aid, care, services, or other benefits; deny or offer any person an opportunity different from that offered others.

Persons wishing to complain of alleged discriminatory conditions or practices by the Department of Public Aid, or other agencies, institutions, organizations, or individuals, may state their complaint in a letter or on Form DPA 185, obtained at the county department of public aid office. The complaint may be sent to the county department or to the Illinois Department of Public Aid, Supervisor of Inquiries and Complaints, 618 East Washington Street, Springfield, Illinois 62762, or to the Secretary, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 330 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201.

The Department of Public Aid will investigate all complaints and take corrective action when indicated by the findings. The director of the department will review the action taken, and the complainant will be informed in writing of the disposition of the complaint. Decisions may be appealed.

For complete details, see brochure DPA 592, Public Aid and Civil Rights.

Protection of Personal Information. By law the contents of department records pertaining to applicants and recipients may not be disclosed except for the purpose of administering the program.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF APPLICANTS AND RECIPIENTS

Applicants must report accurately all income and resources and other facts which have a bearing on their eligibility for assistance. Recipients must report immediately any change in circumstances which may affect their eligibility or the amount of the aid given.

By law, penalties are provided for falsifying or withholding information which may affect eligibility.

ESTATE CLAIMS

Claims will be made against estates to recover the amount paid for medical services in behalf of recipients of the Medical Assistance program if the recipient was 65 years of age or over at the time he received the medical assistance, but only after the death of the surviving spouse and only when there is no surviving child who is under 21 or who is blind or permanently and totally disabled.
